750 Boys And Girls Given Certificates From Seventh Grade

Formal Exercises Held This Morning In Tivoli Theater.

Approximately 750 boys and girls graduated from the seventh grade of Frederick county schools and were given diplomas at the annual exercises held at 10:30 o'clock this morning in the Tivoli theater. An excellent address was made by Harry C. Spillman, of New York city, who is giving the commencement addresses at all the school exercises here this week. Others who spoke were County Superintendent of Education G. Lloyd Palmer, who presided; Senator A. LeRoy McCordell, former member of the County Board of Education; Leslie N. Coblenz, president of the board, and Dr. E. C. Kefauver, a member of the board.

Mr. Spillman stated that the big thing for a child to learn was to learn how to live, that quantity and quality of their work was very important, and that the last two should be used to attain the other. The example of Colonel Lindbergh as a youth with high aims and ideals was held up to the children, who were told that only by having lofty aims and striving constantly toward them is success to be gained.

Senator McCordell and Mr. Coblenz spoke briefly of education and its significance locally, while Dr. Kefauver thanked those present for cooperation with the health department. Mr. Palmer announced that Lindbergh pictures would be shown at the Tivoli and that he hoped the children might see them, also making formal statement of appreciation for the use of the theater today and Thursday. Men And Women Become Frantic As He Approaches

NARROWLY MISSES INJURY

New York, June 13 (AP).—Considering that one of their own, because he left from here on his pioneering flight to France, New York's millions today welcomed Charles A. Lindbergh, viking of the Atlantic heavens, as they have never welcomed anyone before.

After a greeting from 50,000 throats at the Battery that shook the city, and triumphal march up Broadway through close-packed, acclaiming crowds and a paper snowstorm from the windows of skyscrapers, the young flyer arrived at City Hall at 2.09 o'clock this afternoon.

While waiting for Lindbergh to arrive, the estimated 50,000 persons at the Battery were orderly enough, but when he came their emotions broke all bounds. Men beat each other on the backs, women threw their arms about those nearest to them and both men and women struggled to get near to their idol.

He pointed out that if he had wandered far off his course on his Atlantic crossing, he could have landed in the British Isles or as far south as Spain, but declared such land protection is not afforded in the Pacific.

Ferryboats Collide. New York, June 13 (AP).—The municipal ferryboats Bronx and Juliet Miller collided off the Battery this morning. The latter craft was badly damaged. Both vessels carried crowds for the Lindbergh reception.

The damage to the Miller was found to be less than at first thought and both it and the Bronx were able to remain in service.

Mother Arrives. New York, June 13 (AP).—Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of Colonel Lindbergh, arrived at Pennsylvania station at 8.05 o'clock this morning from Washington. She was driven immediately to an apartment in the mid-town section reserved for the use of herself and her son.

The flyer's mother was cheered by crowds that had gathered in the big terminal.

She came on private car No. 89 of the Washington Express. With her was her uncle, John Lodge, acting Mayor of Detroit, and Richard B. Lytic, personal friend and representative of Col. Lindbergh. Attached to the same train was a private car filled with members of the St. Louis committee and two other "Burr-bitter" with St. Louis citizens.

Reaches Mitchell Field. Mitchell Field, N. Y., June 13 (AP).—Charles Lindbergh flew here from Washington today in two hours and four minutes, traveling in a golden noseed pursuit plane, and then transferred as a passenger to an amphibian plane, scheduled to land him in the waters of New York bay, where the city tug Macon was to pick him up and carry him to the Battery. He arrived here at 11.58 a. m.

Lindbergh landed at Mitchell Field only 11.58 daylight time and leaving at noon. Although Lindbergh was accompanied from Washington by 21 other planes, his was the only one that landed, the others circling above the field, while he made a quick transfer to the amphibian plane which was waiting for him with engine running and with Captain Eaker at the controls.

As soon as Lindbergh jumped into the amphibian's cockpit, Capt. Eaker gave her the gas and they were away. The convoy of 21 land planes closed in behind and they were soon out of sight on their way to New York harbor.

Files in Army Plans. Bolling Field, June 13 (AP).—Colonel Lindbergh hopped off at 8.53 a. m. for New York in the Curtiss P-1, an army pursuit plane, after the Spirit of St. Louis developed motor trouble.

Hopping off at 8.54 a. m. for an unannounced landing field in the metropolitan area, the conqueror of the Atlantic was accompanied by an escort of 31 planes furnished by the army and navy, in one of which rode Commander Henry Earl Byrd, the first man to fly across the North Pole and who is also planning a trans-Atlantic air voyage.

The take-off was an easy one. Lindbergh nosed his plane almost straight into the air, circled the field until he was over the Potomac and then put his plane into a series of stunts. He first banked and made a complete turnover and then did four barrel rolls while the crowd at the field looked on with a feeling little short of amazement.

Attaining a height of 2,000 feet, the trans-Atlantic flyer turned to the northwest, then changed his direction to west, following two squadrons of the planes from Selfridge Field. He waited until his full escort of planes could take the air.

Army Planes Await Him. Miller Field, N. Y., June 13.—Nine army airplanes, eager to be the first to greet Lindbergh, left Miller Field at 9 o'clock this morning to pick up the flyer on his course from Washington. The fleet was to be joined over New Jersey by a squadron of commercial planes.

Hawaii Flight Practical. Washington, June 13 (AP).—A San Francisco-to-Hawaii flight is practical and will be made in a short time, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh said today, but he warned that the use of accurate navigation methods was highly important.

The New York-Paris aviator, in an address at the National Aeronautic Association breakfast given in his honor, expressed the hope that the methods of navigation he used on his trans-Atlantic flight would not be adopted for the Pacific trip.

BYRD MAKES READY TO HOP THIS WEEK

New York, June 13 (AP).—While New York was welcoming one flyer back from Europe today, another flyer, Commander Richard E. Byrd, was making near-finish preparations for another flight, which he said like Lindbergh's feat, will be to Paris.

The America, tri-motored plane, was to be put through a final radio test today, which would make the craft ready for flight, except for loading. Emergency supplies are already on board.

The weather bureau which prepared weather charts for Lindbergh and Commander Byrd, began to chart ocean chaps for Commander Byrd today. Mechanics for Byrd said the start may be made this week.

POLAND CAN PACIFY RUSSIA, HE STATES

Geneva, June 13 (AP).—Poland can easily reach a satisfactory agreement with Russia concerning the assassination of the Soviet envoy in Warsaw, Foreign Minister Zaleski told the international correspondents today, confirming the statements of the Polish delegation to the Associated Press that the affair was considered liquidated.

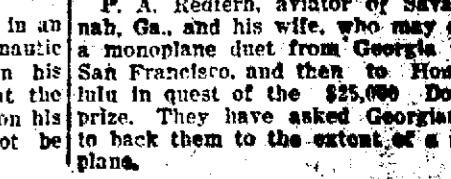

Army Flyers Killed. Newport News, Va., June 13 (AP).—Two army flyers were killed today in a head-on collision between planes at Langley Field. The planes were engaged in maneuvers.

Coles Phillips Dead. New York, June 13 (AP).—Coles Phillips, artist, widely known for his magazine covers, died today.

Satin with bandings or other trimmings made from the dull side, is coming to the fore for the hat assembles. A two-tone hat, with irregular brim, either in felt or straw, lives up the one-color satin ensemble.

A decoction of boiled crickets is used by the Chinese as a blood-purifier.

Candidates

P. A. Redera, aviator of Savannah, Ga., and his wife, who may do a monoplane diet from Georgia to San Francisco, and then to Honolulu in quest of the $25,000 Dole prize. They have asked Georgians to back them to the extent of a fit plane.
